SHOCK BURNS PROVE FATAL TO LINEMAN

DAN C. WILSON PASSES
AWAY AT PUTNAM
COUNTY HOSPITAL

Burns received when he came in contact with 6900 volts of electricity early last Tuesday morning proved fatal to Dan C. Wilson, 46, Roachdale lineman, at the Putnam county hospital Sunday.

Mr. Wilson was injured about 2:30 o'clock last Tuesday morning while doing emergency work on a power line west of Roachdale. He was thrown 25 feet to the ground.

After he had been given aid by Frank Dicks, a fellow worker, Wilson was taken to the Greencastle hospital where death occurred at 6 a. m. Sunday.

With Wilson at the time of the accident were Dicks and Leon Williams, all three of whom were employees of the Public Service Company of Indiana. None could tell just how the accident took place.

Mr. Wilson had been prominent in all community affairs since he moved to Roachdale about 10 years ago. He was a member of the Roachdale Presbyterian church; the Blue Lodge of Masonic lodge at Roachdale; and of the Royal Arch Masons and Commandery at Greencastle; the American Legion at Greencastle and the Roachdale Lions club.

He was born Oct. 29, 1898, at Wabash, the son of Daniel and Deborah Weesner Wilson. He was married May 31, 1924, to Miss Elizabeth Burdell at Bedford, Ky. He had been employed by the Public Service Company of Indiana and its predecessors for the past 27 years.

The survivors include the wife; a daughter, Miss Janice Dorothy Wilson, of Indianapolis; a son, Kaye Wilson, at home; and two sisters, Miss Vera Wilson and Miss Hannah Wilson, both of Wabash.

Funeral services will be held at the Roachdale Presbyterian church Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock, with Rev. O. J. McMullen in charge. The funeral party will then go to Wabash where services will be held at the Middle Street Methodist church Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, with Rev. G. D. Hersberger in charge. Burial will be at Wabash. Friends may call at the home in Roachdale.

BELIEVED MOVING SWIFTLY
WORLD ACTION

POTSDAM, July 23 (UP)—The Big Three conferees were reported moving swiftly today toward decisive action on the problems of peace in Europe and war in the Pacific, under urgent pressure from President Truman to wind up the conference by mid-week.

The conference slate was believed to have been swept clean of all preliminary details, paving the way for the three state heads to act on the major economic and military issues at stake.

Early decisions were expected on an overall economic policy for post-war Europe and details of the occupation of Germany, and it was considered likely that Mr. Truman would place the most vital military question—the defeat of Japan—before Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill in the next few days.

The news blackout on the inner workings of the conference continued and there was no official word on when the meeting was likely to be concluded.

But it was known that the President, in his capacity as chairman of the Big Three meeting, was driving at top speed in the hope of returning to Washington this week to lay his report before the Senate before it adjourns.

Mr. Truman's desire for a quick conclusion of the conference apparently was traced to the belief that unless it can be finished by July 25 it may drag on until the first of August.

That theory was based on the probability that Churchill would return to London on July 26 for the election returns, necessitating a postponement in the deliberations if they have not wound up by that time.

The big staffs of experts brought along by the Big Three were working day and night and the conference heads themselves took time out yesterday only long enough for Mr. Truman to attend the Protestant and Catholic church services held for American troops in Berlin.

After attending the Protestant service conducted by Chaplains Ernest E. Northern, Midlothian, Va., and Lawrence Nelson, Sarasota, Fla., the President attended the Catholic mass celebrated by Chaplain Col. L. Curtis Tierman, Kansas City, Mo.

Col. Tierman served in Mr. Truman's old regiment in World War I.

Later, Mr. Truman returned to the conference chamber for another session with Churchill and Stalin.

Meanwhile, it was believed that Judge Samuel Rosenman, a presidential adviser, would be summoned from Washington to help draft Mr. Truman's report to the Senate.

Observers looked for the President to go directly to the Senate within a few hours after his return to the United States to make a detailed, factual report on his meeting with the Russian and British leaders.

A freak cyclone struck the Berlin area late yesterday, ripping up trees and leveling many weakened building walls over the city, but the twister failed to interrupt the busy round of meetings in the Potsdam Palace.

The storm lasted only a few minutes and first reports said there were no casualties. Stalin entertained Mr. Truman and Churchill at a state dinner in his temporary conference headquarters Saturday night. High American and British staff members also were invited, including Secretary of State Jas. F. Byrnes, Admiral Wm. D. Leahy, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, and British Labor Party leader Clement Attlee.

MRS. CHEEK PASSED AWAY SUNDAY NOON

GREENCASTLE WOMAN SUC-
CUMBS TO ILLNESS OF SHORT DURATION

Mrs. Frances Cheek, widely known life long resident of Greencastle, died Sunday noon. She had been in failing health for the past several years and her condition had been critical for the past few weeks.

Mrs. Cheek was the last of her family, the three sisters having lived at the east Seminary street address for many years. Her husband lost his life in the famous Monon railroad train accident near Crawfordsville many years ago.

During her lifetime, Mrs. Cheek was very much interested in young men and women and it was through her efforts in many cases that young men and women were able to attend DePauw University. She was also interested in the Methodist church and was a life long member of the Greencastle church.

Mrs. Cheek had extensive business interests in and near Lawrenceville, Ill., and during her earlier life spent considerable of her time there looking after these interests.

Mercury Hit 96 On Sunday

The rain storm which threatened in the vicinity of Greencastle late Sunday, missed the city completely, but the south and south-east parts of the county got a fine shower.

Further east a severe electrical and wind storm broke the hot spell which has lasted for the past several days and which the weather man promises will continue through to the middle of the week.

The maximum temperature Sunday was 96 according to The Daily Banner thermometer, at five o'clock, and Monday's forecast was another warm day, with the high temperatures starting early.

Government May Extend Rail Ban

WASHINGTON, July 23 (UP)—The government's limitation on use of Pullman sleepers may be extended to rail schedules up to 750 miles if the present 450 mile ban doesn't suffice to meet Army needs, it was learned today.

An Office of Defense Transportation official said it was not yet known whether the 450-mile limit and other emergency steps would fill army requirements for sleepers. But if they don't, he said, there will be no hesitation to take more drastic action.

"We may raise the mile limit on sleepers from 450 to say, 700 or 750 miles," he said.

His statement came as the Senate was investigating committee opened hearings to determine whether the current railroad jam had been aggravated by improper War Department planning of troop redeployment.

ODT Director J. Monroe Johnson was called as first witness to discuss congressional charges that the Army failed to tell the ODT, the railroads or the Navy how many troops it was bringing back and when.

Senate Starts Charter Debate

WASHINGTON, July 23 (UP)—The Senate began debate on the United Nations Charter today with every indication that it will get overwhelming ratification by the end of the week.

Republican and Democratic senators agreed that debate will be brief and that far more than the necessary two-thirds vote would back the document to make the United States a member of the world peace-keeping organization outlined at the San Francisco conference.

The final vote was expected to show five or less senators opposed to the charter. Senate Democratic leader Alben W. Barkley said there might be no more than one or two votes in opposition.

One of the opponents was expected to be Sen. Hiram Johnson, R., Calif., a leader in the fight against the League of Nations 25 years ago. He voted against the charter in the Senate foreign relations committee.

Sen. Henrik Shipstead, R., Minn., the only member of the committee who did not take part in its 21-1 endorsement of the charter, has not announced definitely how he will vote on ratification. Neither have Senators Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., and William Langer, R., N. D., but that is not saying they will oppose it.

Two other senators who had been listed as doubtful—Kenneth S. Wherry, R., Neb., and Pat McCarran, D., Nev., now expect to vote for ratification.

City firemen were called on a test run at 5:30 a. m. Sunday to the public square.

They laid 1200 feet of hose on two connections, hooking up to plugs at the First-Citizens Bank corner and at the intersection of Franklin and Indiana streets. All the hose was checked during the proceedings.

See High Taxes Following War

WASHINGTON, July 23 (UP)—Congressional leaders today gloomily forecast a period of heavy government expenditures and high taxes after the war.

Chairman Clarence Cannon, D., Mo., of the House appropriations committee said that from now on his group will keep an eagle-eye on government expenses and recapture every possible cent. But he predicted that after the war the expenses "will not be much, if any, under 25 billion dollars annually with no allowance for public debt retirement."

This compares to approximately $10,000,000,000 for the pre-war 1939 fiscal year.

"To meet the bill means taxes far beyond any levies made prior to the war, magnified to the extent occasioned by a fixed-debt-retirement program," Cannon said.

He estimated that after the war $10,000,000,000 a year will be needed for veterans aid and care and for national defense.

Rep. Louis N. Ludlow, D., Ind., member of the appropriations committee, said, "I can't imagine that post-war taxes will be anything but extremely heavy because fixed charges will be terrifically high."

"I imagine there'll be some leveling off and some reduction, but I don't think there'll be a very heavy reduction in taxes," he added.

AUSTRALIANS MOPPING UP BORNEO JAPS

MANILA, July 23 (UP)—Fighting in the area just north-east of Balikpapan, near the mopping up stage today as Australian troops, after landing at Tempadoeng, 14 miles northeast of Balikpapan, pushed beyond Berangoe village.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique announced the seventh Australian Division made the six mile shore to shore operation late Friday night and early Saturday morning against no opposition.

Tempadoeng is located in the inner waters of vast Balikpapan harbor, which already is being partly used by the Allies. On the western side of Borneo, Gen. MacArthur's spokesman said, there has been only minor contact with the enemy in the Brunei Bay area but strong fire fights have developed inland.

Gen. George C. Kenney's 13th Airforce Liberators on Friday completely leveled the town of Tobili, on Tomini Gulf in the northern Seebs.

A large concentration of Japanese in Tobili were reported wiped out by the raid in which over 20 Liberators dropped scores of 100-pounders.

Tobili is the Tomini Gulf terminal for the Japanese supply route across the narrow waist separating the northern section of the island from its southern section.

Fifth Air Force Liberators on night patrol bombed the Japanese naval base at Mako, on Formosa, without observing results while Seventh Fleet Mariners bombed and strafed junks, luggers and barges along the Asiatic coast.

MacArthur's spokesman said 3,629 dead Japanese were counted last week in the Philippines, with the vast majority on Luzon. Only 12 Americans were killed in the Philippines last week, with two others missing and 48 wounded.

MacArthur's spokesman also announced that counted Japanese dead on all the Borneo fronts had reached 4,378 with 441 prisoners.

There were 287 Allied soldiers killed, 12 missing and 1,351 injured.

THIRD FLEET UNITS ACTIVE IN TOKYO BAY

HALSEY DESTROYERS ALSO STRIKE JAPS BONIN
ISLAND

GUAM, July 23 (UP)—Destroyer spearheads of Admiral William F. Halsey's Allied fleet re-opened the attack on Japan with a double strike into Tokyo Bay and the Bonin islands today while his main battle force raced through storm-lashed Japanese waters under an ominous security blackout.

The four-day silence blanket-Halsey's combined fleet ended explosively in the early morning darkness when the guns of an Allied destroyer squadron wrecked a four-ship Japanese convoy in a 20-minute running gun battle off Tokyo Bay.

Almost simultaneously, another destroyer flotilla ranged off Chichi Island in the Bonins, 725 miles to the south, and shelled the town of Omura.

Tokyo broadcasts said the waters around Japan had been hit again by a howling tropical typhoon similar to the one that damaged a big segment of Halsey's fleet in June.

There still was no word on the whereabouts of the scores of American and British battleships, carriers and cruisers that blacked out last Thursday morning after a tremendous 10-day air-sea bombardment that littered eastern Japan and its coastal waters with the wreckage of 412 ships and 556 planes.

But alarmed Japanese spokesmen said Halsey's main force was moving in for new and perhaps heavier blows. One enemy report said American patrol planes had been spotted over the Straits of Tsushima, the 120-mile passage between western Japan and Korea where a Czarist Russian fleet was ambushed and destroyed by the Mikado's warships more than 40 years ago.

"But this time the Japanese had little except their reluctant air force to intercept the attackers—if Halsey intends to force the straits into the shipping-jammed sea of Japan."

A communique revealed that the 32,720-ton Nagato, one of the four known surviving battleships of the Imperial fleet, was one of the 412 vessels smashed up by Halsey's raiders in their 10-day foray along the east coast of Japan. The Nagato was heavily damaged in the Allied carrier strike on the Yokosuka naval base in Tokyo Bay last Wednesday.

Other developments in the spreading pre-invasion attack on Japan included:

1—A fleet of 75 to 100 Superfortresses unloaded almost 500 tons of fire bombs on the huge Ube synthetic oil plant in southwestern Honshu late last night. There was no aerial opposition and only weak anti-aircraft fire and all the Army B-29s returned safely from the attack, their 96th major blow at Japan and their 11th against the enemy's dwindling oil resources.

2—Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle assumed command of a new U. S. Eighth Air Force on Okinawa, equipped with Superforts and supporting fighters for a share in the softening-up bombing of Japan.

"We may be able to save the lives of lots of American boys," said Doolittle, veteran of the first Tokyo strike and the destructive air war on Germany.

3—Tokyo reported an American surface force shelled Paramushiro Island, site of an important Japanese base in the northern Kuriles.

State Forests Open To Hunters

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 20.—Approximately 75,000 acres of Indiana's State Forests will be thrown open to Hoosier hunters with the opening of the squirrel season August 10.

Hunting will be allowed in 10 of the 13 state forest properties scattered throughout the state, according to Milton Matter, director of the Indiana Department of Conservation. The three forests which will not be opened are minor areas, Mr. Matter said. Major properties where hunting will be allowed follow:

Harrison, 15,561 acres, Harrison and Crawford counties; Clark, 16,768 acres, Clark, Scott and Washington counties; Ferdinand, 3,445.50 acres, Dubois and Perry counties; Jackson, 5,636 acres, Jackson county; Martin, 1,976 acres, Martin county; Morgan-Monroe in Morgan, Monroe and Brown counties, 15,205.58 acres; Frances Slocum, 1,045, Wabash and Miami counties; Pike, 2,356 acres, Pike county; Salamonie River, 799 acres, Wabash county; and Yellowwood, 19,280 acres, Brown county.

Opening of forest properties was authorized at a recent meeting of the Conservation department's four-man control board following adoption of a resolution to the effect that "state forests are public forests and should be made as accessible as possible to the public."

The Morgan-Monroe, Clark and Frances Slocum areas were opened to hunting for the first time last year and Hoosier hunters were quick to respond to the opportunity of hunting in some of Indiana's best forest land.

Decision to open the seven additional forests was reached because of "the sportsman-like manner in which hunters used the properties last fall," Mr. Matter said. Despite extremely dry weather, not a single fire was started by hunters.

The 1945 squirrel crop will not be up to last year's supply, according to William E. Barnes, director of the state-wide wildlife survey conducted by the Conservation department. A short mast crop, coupled with an unusually hard winter, considerably reduced the population although in some localities squirrels are numerous.

The season, opening August 10, continues through October 31.

A Crazy Man Shoots Neighbors

LITCHFIELD, Ill., July 23 (UP)—William Groves, 74-year-old former inmate of the Alton State Hospital for Insane, was held in the Montgomery county jail at Hillsboro today without bond, charged with shooting two of his neighbors near here Saturday night.

One of Groves' victims, Mathew Slightom, Jr., 49, is dead and the other, Russell McElfresh, 53, is near death in the Litchfield hospital.

The jury at an inquest conducted yesterday by Coroner Jesse Boyd ordered Groves held for the shootings.

Groves was committed to the Alton hospital in 1942 for having "hallucinations" of being wronged by Slightom and McElfresh. His wife died while he was confined to the institution. Groves was discharged from the hospital last Nov. 15 as "cured."

Saturday night he told a friend, Fred Emmons, that he was going to kill both Slightom and McElfresh because they had "wronged" him. He hired a taxi and got out at a crossroads near the homes of both men.

When Slightom, his wife, their 8-year-old son and Slightom's aged father returned from a shopping trip, Groves came from behind their garage and fired three shots from a .38 caliber revolver into Slightom's head.

Slightom's father, wife and son fled to neighbors for help. When they returned, they found Slightom dead with a total of 13 bullet wounds in his head and body, the killer evidently firing 10 more shots after the other three occupants of the car had left.

A few minutes later Groves knocked on the door of McElfresh's home. When the latter came to the door, Groves fired several shots at point-blank range. Two of the bullets entered one of McElfresh's arms. One severed an artery and he was near death from loss of blood when taken to the hospital.

Shortly after the second shooting, Groves was found sitting in front of a rural church by deputy sheriff John Bray. The latter said Groves still had the revolver in his hand and appeared to be about to take his own life. A note found in one of his pockets listed his fancied wrongs at the hands of his victims and also indicated that he planned to commit suicide.

MOTHER HEN ADOPTS CHICKS WHOLESALE

AMARILLO, Tex. (UP) — It isn't unusual for a mother hen to adopt a few extra chicks to go along with her own, but a Rhode Island Red belonging to W. T. Dykeman goes in for the idea on a large scale.

A mother of five of her own, this biddie lost one shortly after hatching. Then, when Dykeman bought 100 incubator chicks, she took them under her wing, and added another 100 a short while later.

She spreads herself over as many of the 204 chicks as she can at night, and has fought off all attempts of other hens to pirate some of her brood.

FINDS PYGMY SILVER
WARE ON ISLAND BASE

OKINAWA (UP) — Marine Scout Pfc. John Haas, Jr., firmly believes pygmies are hiding out somewhere in the honeycombed cliffs of this recently won island base.

Searching through caves for Japanese stragglers, Haas came across pieces of tiny silverware. Forks measured three inches long and a quarter of an inch wide. Spoons were smaller, and among the ware were five-inch chopsticks.

"Seems that this island reminds everybody of some place. But it doesn't remind me of home," said the Cornell, Mich., marine. "It's tiny farms, toy houses, furniture and miniature railroads bring back memories of 'Gulliver's Travels.'"

TELL OF WAKE ISLAND'S FIGHT

Dramatic last-stand battle of the outnumbered Marine garrison on Wake Island was told in Washington by two officers, captured on the tiny mid-Pacific atoll early in the war and only recently escaped from a prison camp in Shanghai. The account of the two-week defense of Wake in December, 1941, was told by Lt. John F. Kinney, left, of Colfax, Wash., and Lt. John A. McAllister of Blue Mountain, Miss. Only 50 Marines and 70 civilians were killed in the battle for Wake which cost the Japs seven warships and between 1,000 and 2,000 men.—(International)

Joe McCarthy
Is Sick Man

NEW YORK, July 23.—(UP)—Joe McCarthy, master manager of the Majors, whose 15-year career with the New York Yankees provides baseball with its greatest success story, probably is serving his last season at the helm of the club, president Larry MacPhail said today.

McCarthy, 31, at his hotel here reportedly was ready to resign yesterday until after a conference with MacPhail when he was persuaded to finish out the season.

The 58-year-old Irishman whose genius for developing stars gave the Yankees eight pennants and seven world championships, four second place finishes and two thirds since he took over the team in 1931, completed a record that is unparalleled in baseball.

MacPhail revealed that McCarthy was ready to resign last winter because of recurrent illness, but reconsidered when the club changed ownership.

"Joe told Ed Barrow that he wanted to quit then, but he felt people would think he resigned when I took over so he changed his mind," MacPhail said.

"He is upset about the way that the team has been going. He said he hadn't been able to sleep since Wednesday and his physician has advised him to rest awhile, forgetting about baseball."

MacCarthy left the club Friday after it dropped a double header to the St. Louis Browns and has not been with them since.

The red-haired MacPhail, who became one of the owners of the Yankees last winter along with Capt. Dan Topping of the Marines and Del Webb of Phoenix, Ariz., had been expected to clash with McCarthy. However, harmony had been notable in the new regime from the start and MacPhail emphasized that there was no friction involved in McCarthy's reported desire to quit.

VIEW OF SHANGHAI, BOMBED BY U. S. WAR PLANES

Shanghai, queen city of the Orient and the capital of China before the Japs took over, has received its heaviest bombing with more than 200 U. S. planes dropping their missiles. Shanghai, most important of the Asiatic mainland ports held by Japan, is shown in this view looking toward the business district. The river is the Wangpoo.—(International)

the strange case of Mrs. Jekyll and Mrs. Hyde

A patriot—in working hours—Mrs. Jekyll is eager to do her part in the winning of the war... But after hours, as Mrs. Hyde, she lets her Country down.

Her purse crammed with more dollars than she has ever earned before, she tries to buy more although there is far less to buy. She spends needlessly... wastefully... bids up prices.

"Why not?" she asks. "Money's made for spending."

Foolish Mrs. Hyde! She forgets that dollars spent unnecessarily rob our fighters of supplies. Forgets, too, that living costs will soar if she and other half-time patriots keep on squandering money. Let this continue, and each of her dollars—each of your dollars—will buy far less.

This has happened before. It can happen again. Dollars can shrink to dimes in buying power. And it is up to you, as well as to Mrs. Hyde, to help prevent this—to plan your spending and to plan your saving.

Only by planned spending and planned saving, can you best protect the value of your dollars. Take a pencil and work out your own plan for spending and saving. Spend sensibly. Buy and hold all the War Bonds you can—put over-and-above dollars in a savings account for emergencies. Then you will help keep your dollars worth while.

Help the nation's efforts to keep your living costs down, the buying power of your dollar up.
